

Programme Research Day 24 June 2010

Central theme: Interdisciplinary research

Location: Willem II football stadium

08:30 - 09:00 Welcome with coffee and tea

09:00 - 10:15 Plenary session consisting of two parts:

09:00 - 09:40: presentation by Roger Brownsword: "In the Spirit of Legal Inquiry - Taking on Interdisciplinary Research"

09:40 - 10:15: presentation by Ton Wilthagen: "How to succeed in interdisciplinary research ... and avoid becoming a jack of all trades?"

10:15 - 12:30 Poster presentation marathon

The various research groups of the Tilburg Law School present themselves in a 'poster presentation marathon'. A fast way to get to know your colleagues' research!

12:30 - 13:30 Lunch

13:30 - 15:30 Workshops

From 13:30 to 14:30 four parallel workshops take place, all with subjects related to the central theme 'interdisciplinary research'. From 14:30 to 15:30 the same four parallel workshops take place. With your registration you indicate which two workshops you want to attend.

Workshops:

- "Why Comparative Legal Research is by Definition Interdisciplinary", by Maurice Adams
- "What does social science methodology has to offer to legal research?", by Gijs van Dijck and Jacques Hagens
- examples of interdisciplinary research by INTERVICT (International Victimology Institute Tilburg)
- examples of interdisciplinary research by TILEC (Tilburg Law and Economics Center)

15:30 - 16:00 Break

16:00 - 17:00 Plenary discussion

Panel discussion about the "Sense and Nonsense of Interdisciplinary Research". The discussion will be led by Jacques Hagens. The panel consists of Roger Brownsword, Gijs van Dijck, Peter Essers and Ton Wilthagen.

17:00 - 18:00 A drink at the Willem II stadium's Grand Café