The Bachelor's programs taught on a part-time basis will take six years of study.

Article 1.5 Final examinations of the program

The only final examination that can be taken in the programs is the final examination of a Bachelor's program.

Section 2 Organization of the program

Article 2.1 Composition and final examination of the program

1. The program consists of a propaedeutic phase and a post-propaedeutic phase.
2. The program is concluded with the final examination of the Bachelor's program.

Article 2.2 Study load

1. The study load of the program is 180 ECTS-credits.
2. The study load of the propaedeutic phase is 60 ECTS-credits.
3. The study load is expressed in whole ECTS-credits.
4. In principle, the study load of units of study is 6 ECTS-credits or a multiple of this.

Article 2.3 Academic training

1. The program contains sufficient elements that contribute to the students' academic training, in particular with respect to:
  - Independent scientific reasoning and action;
  - For Liberal Arts and Sciences:
Scientific communication in at least English.
For the other Bachelor's programs:
Scientific communication in at least one language other than Dutch;
  - Gaining more in-depth knowledge of the relationship between science and the philosophical and cultural traditions of society.
2. The Board of Examiners decides on a framework for the assessment of the above.

Article 2.4 Pre-Master's track

Students who have been placed in the Pre-Master's track by the Board of Admissions need to take a specially prepared program. This program is determined by the Board of Admissions at the start of the student's program of study.

Article 2.5 Language of Instruction

1. The language of instruction in the Liberal Arts and Sciences Bachelor's program is English.
2. The language of instruction in the other Bachelor's programs is Dutch and English.
3. Without prejudice to the provisions in subsection 2, one or more courses that are part of the final exam can be offered and tested in English or in another language. The language of instruction of the courses that are part of the final exam is determined each year and specified in the electronic course information.

Section 3 The propaedeutic phase of the program

Article 3.1 Composition of the propaedeutic phase

The propaedeutic phase comprises the courses and the corresponding course loads as specified in PART 2. Component details are specified in the Study Guide.

Each year it is decided which of the courses will be offered and tested in Dutch, in English or in another language. The students are to take the course in the language in which it is offered and tested in the year in question.

In tandem with these courses, the School of Humanities offers, for all Bachelor's programs except Liberal Arts and Sciences, a digital Dutch and English proficiency test. This Dutch/English language service is for all students who have enrolled for the first time in a particular program.

First-year students of the Bachelor's program and students of the Pre-Master's track of Communication and Information Sciences are obliged to participate in the Test Subject Pool. Students who started the Bachelor's program or a Pre-Master's track in the academic year 2013-2014 or earlier are obliged to participate in the Test Subject Pool for a total of 15 hours. Students who started the Bachelor's program or a Pre-Master's track of  $\geq 31$  ECTS-credits in the academic year 2014-2015 or later are obliged to participate in the Test Subject Pool for a total of 15 hours within the context of the course Methodology. Students who started a Pre-Master's track of  $\leq 30$  ECTS-credits in the academic year 2014-2015 or later are obliged to participate in the Test Subject Pool for a total of 7,5 hours within the context of the course Research Seminar.

In drawing up the schedules of the Communication and Information Science Bachelor's and Pre-Master's programs, care is taken to avoid scheduling at the same time courses with the same labels or courses that are linked in terms of content. However, considering the great number of courses offered in each teaching period (block or semester), the time slots of certain courses will inevitably overlap with others. In these cases, students will have to make a choice between these overlapping courses.

One of the components of the first-year and second-year curriculum of the Bachelor's programs is the Mentor/Tutor system.

Participation in the Philosophy Bachelor's Mentor system is a requirement for all full-time first-year and second-year students. The Mentor system comprises four semesters; each semester one of the courses will focus on particular skills. Part-time students are strongly advised to take part in the Mentor system.

Article 3.2 Propedeutic practicals

The following courses of the propaedeutic phase as referred to in article 3.1 and as mentioned in PART 2 and PART 4, in addition to theoretical lectures and seminars also include teaching sessions in the form of practicals.

Section 4 The post-propaedeutic phase of the program

Article 4.1 Composition of the post-propaedeutic phase

The post-propaedeutic phase comprises the components/courses and the corresponding study loads as mentioned in PART 3. Component details are specified in the Study Guide.

Each year, it is decided which of the courses will be offered and tested in Dutch, in English or in another language. The students are to take the course in the language in which it is offered and tested in the year in question.

Within the Bachelor's programs of Culture Studies and Philosophy, three exit profiles are distinguished: Education, Research and the Entrepreneurial profile. [ 3 ]

For the exit profile of Education, students can fill in the Bachelor's thesis requirement by doing Bachelor's thesis research or by doing a research internship. The topic should preferably be related to Education in the broadest sense of the word (e.g., learning, knowledge transfer, teaching and raising children).

For the Research exit profile, students can fill in the Bachelor's thesis requirement by doing Bachelor's thesis research.

For the Entrepreneurial exit profile, students can fill in the Bachelor's thesis requirement by doing a research internship.

In drawing up the schedules of the Communication and Information Science Bachelor's and Pre-Master's programs, care is taken to avoid scheduling at the same time courses with the same labels or courses that are linked in terms of content. However, considering the great number of courses offered in each teaching period (block or semester), the time slots of certain courses will inevitably overlap with others. In these cases, students will have to make a choice between these overlapping courses.

The Mentor/Tutor system is a component of the second-year curriculum of the Bachelor's program.

Article 4.2 Post-propedeutic practicals

The following courses of the post-propaedeutic phase as referred to in article 4.1 and

Article 4.3 Additional requirements with regard to the programs

4.3.1 Disciplinary courses in the Bachelor's program of Communication and Information Sciences

All cohorts are required to take at least four courses belonging to the category of disciplinary courses. In most cases, the disciplinary courses form the disciplinary foundation of more than one specialization.

4.3.2 Major programs in the Bachelor's program of Liberal Arts and Sciences

All cohorts are required to choose one of the four Major programs (Business and Management; Humanities: European History and Culture; Law in Europe; Social Sciences). The choice is made at the end of the first year.

For students who started their studies in the academic year 2010-2011 or earlier:

In the second semester of the first year, students take two "introduction-to-Major" courses. Subsequently, they choose either of the two Major programs that they took the introductory course to. Because each of the introductory courses is an integral part of the corresponding Major program, students choosing a Major program whose introductory course they did not take, will still have to take this introductory course.

For students who started their studies in the academic year 2011-2012 or later:

In the second semester of the first year, students take two courses serving as introductory courses to the Major programs: Introduction to Social Sciences and Business & Management, and Introduction to Law and Humanities. Subsequently, they choose one of the Major programs.

For all students:

Besides this, students have to successfully complete all the courses that are part of the Major program. Courses that are part of a Major program cannot be replaced by courses from one of the other Major programs.

4.3.3 Minor programs

The following cohorts are required to take a 30-ECTS Minor program:

- Students who started on the Bachelor's program of Culture Studies in the academic year 2008-2009 or earlier;
- Students who started on the Bachelor's program of Liberal Arts and Sciences in the academic year 2008-2009 or later; students are allowed to include the Social Innovation Project (6 EC; course code 800222) in their Minor program;
- Students who started on the Bachelor's program of Philosophy in the academic year 2008-2009 or earlier;
- Students who started on the Bachelor's program of Philosophy in the academic year 2014-2015 or later.

Students of the Bachelor's program of Communication and Information Sciences have the opportunity include a 30-ECTS Minor program in their free space; they are not required to do so.

The Minor program consists of a cluster of courses that are not already part of the student's obligatory program. Courses offered by other universities and that are comparable to the student's required courses cannot be included in a Minor program either. Language proficiency courses cannot normally be included in a Minor program either. In addition, a Minor program is allowed to include at the most two courses from the propaedeutic phase (as a rule, this corresponds to at the most 12 ECTS-credits) of the faculty, of other faculties within Tilburg University, and/or of other (possibly foreign) institutions of Higher Education. Finally, the Minor program has to meet current set criteria of size, level and cohesion.

For the inclusion of a Minor program in their studies, students need the approval of the Board of Examiners.

Recognized Minor programs for students of Culture Studies are:

1. Art in the Public Sphere

2. Business Communication and Digital Media
3. Communication and Information Sciences

In order to be entitled to a mention on this transcript, at least four of the five courses will have to bear the label BDM, HAIT, IC or T&C. The Minor can either be focused on more in-depth knowledge in one's own CIW specialization, or it can be one that broadens one's knowledge across a wider field. In choosing an in-depth Minor within one's specialization, students should keep in mind that all courses can only be included once in the program of study (and on the transcript of grades): students are not allowed to include courses in their Minor that they have already taken and completed as part of their specialization.

Master Classes and Teaching in Schools (6 EC)
These two courses are likewise closely connected and must therefore also be taken simultaneously. Students can start on their Practical Training as soon as the two courses programmed for the fall semester have been taken.

It is possible to take only the two courses programmed for the fall semester. Successful completion of these two courses does not result in the mention of a Minor (on one's diploma), nor does it result in a second-degree teaching qualification for the subject of Philosophy.

The composition of the recognized Minor programs is subject to change. Students who want to include one of these recognized Minor programs in their program of studies, can compile the Minor with courses that in consecutive academic years have been marked as Minor courses, provided the following criteria are met:

1. The Minor as a whole in principle includes at the most two propaedeutic courses that have been marked as courses belonging to the Minor in question;
2. The Minor as a whole does not include any courses that overlap (for instance,

- in connection with transitional provisions);
3. The Minor as a whole does not include courses that are already part of the student's required program, that overlap with required courses, or that are comparable to required courses.

2. The Pre-Master's tracks can be taken on the basis of a successfully completed program of Higher Professional Education to the value of 240 ECTS credits, as specified in article 7.6, subsection 2. To qualify for admission, a written request has to be filed with the Board of Admissions of the faculty. The Board of Admissions subsequently determines on the basis of the required certificate of Higher Professional Education and a specification of the courses taken (to be submitted via the transcript of grades) if the student can be admitted to the Pre-Master's track in question.

Article 5.2 Components of the educational program of the Pre-Master's track

The Pre-Master's tracks contain the components and the corresponding study loads as specified in PART 4.

Each year, it is decided which of the courses will be offered and tested in Dutch, in English or in another language. The students are to take the course in the language in which it is offered and tested in the year in question.

In tandem with these courses, the School of Humanities offers for all Pre-Master's tracks a digital Dutch and English proficiency test. This Dutch/English language service is intended for all students who have enrolled for the first time in the Pre-Master's track in question.

In drawing up the schedules of the Communication and Information Science Bachelor's and Pre-Master's programs, care is taken to avoid scheduling at the same time courses with the same labels or courses that are linked in terms of content. However, considering the great number of courses offered in each teaching period (block or semester), the time slots of certain courses will inevitably overlap with others. In these cases, students will have to make a choice between these overlapping courses.

Article 5.3 Practicals

Courses that include teaching sessions in the form of practicals are specified in article 3.2 and article 4.2.

Section 6 Examinations and final examination of the program

Article 6.1 Required order

1. Admission to the post-propaedeutic phase
Students are allowed to take the exams of the second Bachelor's year, provided they have successfully completed at least 42 ECTS of the first-year Bachelor's courses referred to in article 3.1 and mentioned in PART 2.
Any other admission to the post-propaedeutic exams is for the Board of Admissions to decide.
2. Order within the post-propaedeutic phase

For the Culture Studies Bachelor's program:

Students can start on their Bachelor's thesis or on their practical training (internship) (see PART 3) as soon as they have successfully completed 120-ECTS of courses that are part of the program, provided these include at least the following courses:

Students can start on their Bachelor's thesis or on their practical training (internship) (see PART 3) as soon as they have successfully completed 120-ECTS of courses that are part of the program.

Article 6.2 Exam periods and frequency of exams

1. In every academic year, there are two opportunities for taking the exams specified in sections 3, 4 and 5, and in PART 2, PART 3 and PART 4.

If a course is offered more than once in an academic year and/or if more than two opportunities for taking the exam for a course are offered, students are allowed to take part in no more than two of these. If in one and the same academic year students score more than two results for a particular course, the third and following efforts are declared invalid.

2. Without prejudice to the provisions in subsection 1, students are at least offered one opportunity to take the exam for courses that were not taught in a specific academic year.

If at this opportunity/these opportunities students fail to pass the exam(s), they will have to replace the course by another course.

For the Liberal Arts and Sciences Bachelor's program:

To replace one course by another course, students need the approval of the Board of Examiners.

For the other Bachelor's programs:

For the replacement of one course by another, transitional regulations have been formulated.

3. If there are interim tests in the form of written exams belonging to the courses specified in sections 3, 4 and 5 and in PART 2, PART 3 and PART 4, students are offered the opportunity to take each of these tests at least once in each semester in which the course is taught. The concluding test takes place in the exam period immediately following the lectures of the course in question. During the resit-period students are once again offered the opportunity to take the interim tests that were administered in the periods mentioned earlier. If there are other forms of interim tests other than written exams, students are in principle offered one opportunity to take these tests. The test regulations for the courses that include interim tests are specified in the electronic course information.

4. If assessment takes place in the form of a project, a paper or an essay, these are to be submitted within two months after the end of the course. This applies to all courses planned for the full length in one of the semesters of the academic year calendar. Any second, revised version of a paper or essay is to be submitted before March 30th for any course taught in the first semester; first versions of papers or essays written for courses taught in the second semester are to be submitted before July 1st. Second, revised versions of papers or essays for a course taught in the second semester of the post-propaedeutic phase, are to be submitted before August 15th. After these dates, students will have officially missed one opportunity.
5. If assessment of a course taught in the block system takes place on the basis of a project, a paper or an essay, these are to be submitted within three weeks after the last day of class of the block in question. Any second, revised versions are to be submitted at the latest on the last day of class of the block immediately following that in which the course was taught. Second, revised versions of papers or essays for a course from the fourth block are to be submitted before August 15th. After these dates, students will have officially missed an opportunity.
6. Only if due to circumstances beyond their control students should not have been able to take a test in either of the two opportunities offered, can they appeal to the Board of Examiners for an extra opportunity. The appeal must be a motivated request, submitted in writing. The Board can consult the lecturer concerned for advice.
7. Students active in top-class sports can apply for top sportsman/-woman status, which entitles them to extra facilities with respect to the organization of their program, for instance, and/or financial support. As far as it is within its power to do so, the faculty seeks to accommodate these students through special arrangements such as alternative planning of examinations, exemption from compulsory attendance at lectures, substitutive assignments, etc. Students who have been awarded top sportsman/-woman status and who wish to make use of the above-mentioned facilities need to make an appointment with their academic advisor at the start of the semester to draw up a study plan. If they fail to do so in time, extra facilities cannot be offered afterwards.

8. In principle, students who have been awarded top sportsman/-woman status are subject to the norm for the binding recommendation regarding the continuation of their studies ('Binding Study Advice') as laid down in article 8.1, subsection 2. On the recommendation of the Student Dean, the Board of Examiners can decide to allow for the binding recommendation to be postponed, as indicated in article 8.3, subsection 1.

Article 6.3 Form of the exams

1. The exams of the courses referred to in sections 3, 4 and 5, and mentioned in PART 2, PART 3 and PART 4, are oral or written exams, as specified in the corresponding course description. Written exams also include those in the form of one or more assignments, a project, a report or a thesis.
2. At the student's request, the Board of Examiners can give students permission to take examinations in a different way and at a different time than originally specified. At the request of the student, the Board of Examiners can under certain conditions, allow for an exam to be taken at a distance.
3. Students with disabilities can be given the opportunity by the Board of Examiners to take examinations in a way that is adapted as much as possible to their individual limitations. If necessary, the Board of Examiners will seek expert advice before taking a decision. If taking exams in an adapted form should require certain specific facilities to be made available or require that the exam be administered in a particular way, the students in question are to file a request to this effect at the Digital Registration Desk for Disabilities (Digitaal Meldpunt Functiebeperking).

Article 6.4 Oral exams

1. In oral exams, not more than one person is tested at the same time, unless the Board of Examiners has decided otherwise.
2. An oral exam is a public event, unless the Board of Examiners or the examiner concerned in a special case has decided otherwise, or if the student has objected.

3. For the Culture Studies, Communication and Information Sciences and Philosophy Bachelor's programs:

The examiner takes care that an audio recording is made of any oral exam, so that the questions asked, the answers given, and the lecturer's conclusions are recorded. The audio recording remains available during the period set for appeals as formulated in article 6.5, subsection 5, or for the duration of an actual appeals procedure.

Article 6.5 Determination and publication of exam results

1. The examiner determines the results of written exams of components (courses) within 15 work days after the exam has been taken unless the program director decides on the basis of the academic year calendar or any other regulation that exam results should be determined within 10 work days.
2. In the case of oral exams, the examiner in principle determines the result immediately after the oral exam has taken place, or at least within 5 work days after the oral exam has taken place, and provides the student with a written statement specifying the result.
3. For exams that are neither oral nor written, the Board of Examiners decides beforehand how and the period within which the student will receive a written statement specifying the result.
4. The examiner provides the administration department of the faculty with the data necessary for publishing the results. The results are announced on the university website.
5. Students can appeal to the Board of Appeals for Examinations within six weeks after the announcement of the results of an exam.

Article 6.6 Period of validity

1. In principle, courses passed by students have unlimited validity; results obtained for interim tests and interim assignments remain valid only during the academic year in question, unless the Board of Examiners decides otherwise.
2. Without prejudice to the provisions in subsection 1, the Board of Examiners can impose an additional or substitute exam for a course that was passed more than 5 years before, before the student is admitted to take the final exam in question.

3. For the period of validity of exemptions for a particular course, subsections 1 and 2 apply.

Article 6.7 Right of inspection

1. For at least six weeks after the results of a written exam have been announced, students have the right to inspect their examination papers. In addition, at their request, they will be given a copy of their work at cost price. No copies are given of multiple choice exams.
2. During the period mentioned in subsection 1, any interested person can inspect the questions and the assignments of the examination in question, and, if possible, be given the norms on the basis of which assessment has taken place.
3. The Board of Examiners may determine that inspection occur at a fixed place and at at least two fixed points in time. If the person concerned can prove to be, or to have been, unable to come at this fixed place and time due to circumstances beyond their control, he or she will be offered another opportunity, if possible within the period mentioned in subsection 1.

Article 6.8 Exemptions

1. At the student's request, and having heard the examiner concerned, the Board of Examiners can grant a student an exemption for a particular course, provided the student:
  - has taken and successfully completed a course at a university or Institute of Higher Professional Education (HBO) that is comparable in terms of content and level;or
  - can show that he or she possesses sufficient knowledge and skills with regard to the course in question as a result of work or professional experience.
2. The request is to be submitted to the secretary of the Board of Examiners together with the necessary papers substantiating the student's claim, and must include a specification of the applicant's reasons for making the request.

3. Exemption can not be granted within the program for the thesis.

Article 6.9 Final exam

The Board of Examiners determines the result of the final exam as soon as the student has provided sufficient proof of having passed the exams and thus of having acquired the necessary academic training.

Article 6.10 Degree

In this case, the results scored in the first academic year are treated as exemptions.
4. For the Culture Studies Bachelor's program:

The rules and regulations applying to students who have been admitted to a Pre-Master's track as of the academic year 2015-2016 have been incorporated in the Course and Assessment Regulations for 2015-2016 of the Bachelor's programs of the School of Humanities. The rules and regulations applying to students who started on a Pre-Master's track in or before the academic year 2013-2014 are as formulated in the Course and Assessment Regulations of the Bachelor's programs resp. Master's programs of the School of Humanities of 2013-2014 or before – except for curriculum changes included in PART 5 of the present regulations. ## Transitional provisions Tilburg School of Humanities as of 2010-2011

Transitional provision for the Communication and Information Science Bachelor's program:

As of the academic year 2014-2015 the Bachelor's thesis amounts to 12 ECTS-credits instead of 18 ECTS-credits.

Students who started the program in the academic year 2012-2013 or in the academic year 2013-2014 are obliged to write the Bachelor's thesis for 12 ECTS-credits as well. Furthermore, they are obliged to fill in the remaining 6 ECTS-credits by taking one of three required elective subjects: (a) Seminar Data Processing; (b) Language, Mind & Computer; or (c) Language in the Digital Age.

Transitional provision for all Bachelor's programs:

Article 6.2 subsection 1 states: "If a course is offered more than once in an academic year and/or if more than two opportunities for taking the exam for a course are offered, students are allowed to take part in no more than two of these. If in one and the same academic year students score more than two results for a particular course, the third and following efforts are declared invalid."

This term equally applies if in one and the same academic year a course and the course which has been defined as the transitional provision are both offered.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION: Graduating in two specializations within the Liberal Arts and Sciences Bachelor's program

On the basis of jurisprudence of the Board of Examiners, regulations have been drawn up for students opting for a Bachelor's degree in two (or more) specializations within the Liberal Arts and Sciences Bachelor's program.

Students wishing to graduate in two (or more) Majors within the Liberal Arts and Sciences Bachelor's program are to complete all components of the one Major plus all components of the other Major(s) to the value of 54 / 48 ECTS-credits. Students are not obliged to write a second Bachelor's thesis.

The total study load is  $180 + 54 = 234$  ECTS-credits when the following Majors are combined:

- Law and Business and Management
- Law and Humanities
- Law and Social Sciences
- Humanities and Business and Management

The total study load is  $180 + 48 = 228$  ECTS-credits when the following Majors are combined:

- Social Sciences and Business and Management
- Social Sciences and Humanities

If a student has finished the Liberal Arts and Sciences Bachelor's curriculum completely and on top of that have finished all compulsory components of one or more other Majors, one of the Majors will be specified on the list of grades belonging to the certificate. The components belonging to the other Major(s) will be specified on the list of extra components.

It is up to the student to choose which of the Majors will be specified on the list of grades belonging to the certificate and which of the Major(s) will be specified on the list of extra components.

The degree that students acquire when having graduated ("BSc" or "BA" respectively) is determined by the Major of which the components are specified on the list of grades belonging to the certificate: "BSc" when the student has chosen to specify the components of the Major Business and Management or the Major Social Sciences on the list of grades, "BA" when the student has chosen to specify the components of the Major Humanities: European History and Culture or the Major Law in Europe on the list of grades.

The 'judicium' is computed on the basis of the components specified on the list of grades belonging to the certificate; components specified on the list of extra components are ignored.
